It's time for a routine check-up with Dr. Gert Grizzly. Sister Bear is brave about her booster shot, and Brother Bear is fine, but--achoo!--is that Papa Bear sneezing? "A light-hearted approach to the subject with straightforward information."--"Appraisal.

Stan and Jan Berenstain were already successful cartoonists for magazines and adult humor books when they began writing children's books. The first story starring the bear family, The Big Honey Hunt, appeared in 1962. Since then, more than 360 Berenstain Bears books have been published, and more than 300 million copies have been sold. What began as an idea sparked by their young sons' love of reading has become one of the best-selling children's book series ever.

My boys like this book. You can't go wrong with the Berenstain Bears.

As with all books in this series, a great read. I simplify the story for my 19-month-old toddler's short attention span, but she enjoys listening and looking at the picture and using her B. Dr. Doctor tool kit along with the book!

perfect choice

my granddaughter loves reading the berenstain bears books

My 3 year old son loves this book. I especially like how it prepares him for what the Doctor will be doing, checking his height, weight, temperature, feeling his belly, eyes, ears, nose and listening to his heart. Even about shots. I think he is actually looking forward to his next check up!

My daughter of 3 years old asked me to read it to her many time already after I bought it for her. I am planning to buy several other books in the series. I haven't taken her to the doctor after we read the book, I cannot comment on whether it helps to get kids ready for going to doctors.

We have this book and I've purchased twice now as a gift. I include with a doctors kit as a gift for a three year old, both times a hit. It very simply goes through what will will happen during a check up- and my boys copy it and play doctor using things they learned in the book as well as the real experiences. It talks about shots, I think it addresses them well.

This is a Christmas gift for my granddaughter
