Customer Reviews

I bought this little book because the author is a member of my community, but mostly because my little grandson's parents split up a few months ago. At 3, he has been grieving the loss of his mom and wondering if it was his fault. It's amazing how hurt a little one can be when these things happen. I read this book to him, even though it is recommended for children just a little older, and I was amazed that he related to it so well. He now asks to read this book every weekend when he visits us, and sometimes twice in one day. It seems to speak to him in a language and at a level he can understand, and even though the subject matter isn't fun or happy, the message is uplifting and positive.(I purchased this book directly from the author.)

Divorce as well as death of a parent brings on all kinds of sad emotions, hurt, anger, guilt, abandonment, and the feeling of being alone. Julie Mastel's book reminds children they aren't alone, that Jesus is with them. "So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand."(Isaiah 41:10) This book offers peace for children who hurting from the effects of divorce.

This book is perfect for talking to kids about divorce. It reassures them that it is not their fault. It also reassures them of God's love. This book is a real blessing!
