This calendar has been a purchase I have made for 20 years. It is a gift that gives 365 (366) days of the year. I also purchase one for my sister and we often comment on a day's reflection. I purchase for other women who are an important part of my life too. The secretary at school has one and many on our faculty want to know what it says each day. I always purchase an extra one because at some point in January, someone needs to know others understand what she is going through. The calendar almost always speaks to an emotional need I have each day. Well worth the cost!

I love this calendar. I bought this for myself for Christmas last year and I've had one every year for many years. I'll be buying one for myself again this year, unless someone buys it for me first! Very inspirational, lots of good thoughts and quotes. This calendar is a big part of every day! For every woman who seems to be busy, busy, busy 24 hours a day, doing things for everyone else, this is for you! I can't wait to get my 2013 edition!!!

Standard in my home each year for the past 5 plus years - some are cheesy but most are very good

"They say that women talk too much. If you have worked in Congress you know that the filibuster was invented by men" (Clare Boothe Luce). "It is dismaying to me that the creator of this calendar - a PhD no less - believes in this age that it's necessary and acceptable to denigrate one group in order to build another's self-esteem, or that she feels such a thing falls into the category of "meditation." This calendar would seem to be more divisive than reflective.
