PreS "These zany concept books use bright, simple illustrations and enthusiastic text written in verse to convey basic information on colors and animal sounds. The array of vehicles in Zoom (including everything from a bulldozer to an ice-cream truck) and the variety of animals, both wild and domestic, in Sounds gives these titles tons of kid appeal. Die-cut holes add a tactile element, making these perfect for the youngest readers.

Fhiona Galloway is the illustrator of the My Little World series. When not illustrating children's books, she likes spending time with her family, walking her giant schnauzer, drinking tea, reading, and watching films.

This is a cute book with lots of colors and cute eye catching illustrations. My 16 month old son enjoys it. I enjoy reading it to him as it keeps his attention and the whole book rhymes and has a fun overall tone.

My 17 month old and 3.5 year old love this book. They both interact with the holes and colors and animals. Perfect size for little laps and sits well for car rides.

One of my favorite books to read my infant son and he loves it too.

We bought this after falling in love with the sister book, Zoom. It's quickly made it into our rotation of favorite books. My son was interested in this book as early as 5 or 6 months, and still (at 2.5) pulls it out from time to time.

Such a cute book. I got this because my daughter loves "hoot"! She still prefers hoot, but loves this book as well.

Very colorful and fun story! My 18 month old loves this and he likes the cutouts in each page my child's favorite book!

Cute book. Our 14 month old twins love it. Great for teaching animal sounds.
